EU approves Swiss contribution to Eulex

KosovoCompromise Staff

The European Union approved Thursday a Swiss contribution to the Eulex mission.

Switzerland is to make a modest contribution -- a few dozen personnel -- to the mission.

It joins Norway, Turkey and the United States among the non-EU members of the mission.

Some 400 members of Eulex are already deployed in Kosovo, and the EU High Representative Javier Solana has expressed hope that it will become fully operational by autumn.
