

KOSOVO

COMPROMISE 2007

Your daily-updated analyses, charts and solution plug-ins for the Kosovo crisis.

October 22, 2008

Kosovo Serb assembly announces petition against Eulex

KosovoCompromise Staff

The President of the Kosovo Serb assembly Radovan Nacic said on Tuesday that the body would organize an action during which the Serbs from all parts of Kosovo would define their stand on the European Union mission.

Nacic said the Assembly opposed the deployment of Eulex in Kosovo and argued that that the it had decided to opt for a petition on the issue due to, as he put it, the “unclear, confusing and imprecise stands of the Serbian state leadership.”

He expects that the petition will be a confirmation of the Serbian parliament's position that Eulex is not acceptable, since it will serve to implement the Martti Ahtisaari plan on supervised Kosovo independence.

“The only acceptable mission in KiM is that of the UN - UNMIK,” Nacic underlined.

Kosovo Serb assembly announces petition against Eulex
KosovoCompromise Staff

The President of the Kosovo Serb assembly Radovan Nacic said on Tuesday that the body would organize an action during which the Serbs from all parts of Kosovo would define their stand on the European Union mission.

Nacic said the Assembly opposed the deployment of Eulex in Kosovo and argued that that the it had decided to opt for a petition on the issue due to, as he put it, the “unclear, confusing and imprecise stands of the Serbian state leadership.”

He expects that the petition will be a confirmation of the Serbian parliament's position that Eulex is not acceptable, since it will serve to implement the Martti Ahtisaari plan on supervised Kosovo independence.

“The only acceptable mission in KiM is that of the UN - UNMIK,” Nacic underlined.