

KOSOVO

COMPROMISE 2007

Your daily-updated analyses, charts and solution plug-ins for the Kosovo crisis.

November 5, 2008

UNSC to debate on Kosovo on November 11

KosovoCompromise Staff

The UN Security Council will debate on Kosovo on November 11 after it was postponed from this week's agenda.

Serbia's Foreign Minister Vuk Jeremic previously said that the November 7 session of the UN Security Council on the reconfiguration of the Unmik mission and Eulex deployment would be postponed because Serbia's demands have been met.

He recalled that Serbia had asked that Eulex does not implement the Martti Ahtisaari plan, that it must be status neutral and that it must have an explicit mandate from the UN Security Council.

Jeremic said there was still no agreement either on the six-points talks between Belgrade and Unmik on the reconfiguration of the UN mission.