Kouchner: Pristina must accept agreement with UN

The chairman of the European Union Council of Foreign Ministers, French Foreign Minister Bernard Kouchner, said on Monday in Brussels that after Serbia accepted the six-point agreement with the UN, Pristina must follow suit.

“This document is needed to deploy Eulex”, he told the press after a long discussion of the Council on Kosovo.

“Eulex neutrality is not a problem - it exists. The problem is the political will of Serbs and Albanians to admit that Eulex is necessary”, he said.

“The EULEX mission is ready and necessary. It is strange that it is now being opposed by the party which needs it most”, Kouchner said.
