Kosovo Serb school stoned twice in five days

KosovoCompromise Staff

The Braca Aksic Serb primary school in Lipljan (central Kosovo) was stoned Wednesday by unidentified persons, deputy headmaster Slavormir Miric said.

This is the second attack in five days.

None of the 53 students were present and the guard was not injured, while only one window was broken, he said.

A few days ago, a group of young Kosovo Albanians broke 12 windows on the school, which used to be attended by 880 students before UNMIK and KFOR arrived in Kosovo in 1999.
