The Eulex mission will start functioning throughout Kosovo on December 9, its spokesman Victor Reuter said, adding that on that date, the police, prosecutors, judges and customs officials will assume their posts.

“December 9 is the date when Eulex police will come to Kosovo and join their colleagues from the Kosovo police in offices in Kosovo, the day that prosecutors will assume their duties in courts throughout Kosovo. Eulex will launch its mission on the ground on December 9,” said Reuter.

Meanwhile, the Polish special police units that will work under Eulex’s wing have arrived in Pristina from Kosovska Mitrovica, where they served under Unmik.

Their main task will be patrolling, protecting VIPs and riot control.
