Kosovo Albanians protest against Eulex deployment plan

KosovoCompromise Staff

Several thousand supporters of several Kosovo Albanian NGOs went on a protest stroll through Pristina on Tuesday, protesting against Ban Ki-moon's six point plan on the deployment of Eulex and urging what they said was the preservation of Kosovo's sovereignty.

The protesters carried posters that say "Serbs, go away," "Against six items - for sovereignty," "Down with 1244," "No to EULEX."

This is the second protest in the past 15 days and, according to organisers, it was prompted by UN's conditions for the deployment of EULEX.

The organisers included the leader of the the Self-Determination Movement, Albin Kurti.
