Serb Orthodox Church demolished in Kosovo

KosovoCompromise Staff

Unidentified assailants have demolished the Serb Orthodox church in the village of Vrbovac, in eastern Kosovo.

Spokesperson for the regional police in Gnjilane, Ismet Hashani, has confirmed the destruction.

In addition to the church, the church dining facility has also been demolished.

The church was looted prior to its demolition.

Over 150 Serb monasteries and churches have been destroyed in Kosovo since 1999.
