Coming up in January: New issue of the Kosovo Compromise journal

KosovoCompromise Staff

The new issue of “In Press” – the Kosovo Compromise journal – is coming up in the early weeks of January.

It will present the top stories of 2009, powerful arguments against the “Kosovo sui generis case”, a graphic assessment of the impact of the Kosovo precedent, and other intelligent material for all those interested in a compromise solution.

We wish you all a Happy New Year, which we hope will restore chances for a Kosovo compromise and a return to international law.
